

Magazine Article Submission Form

The “Texas Recreation and Parks Society (TRAPS) Magazine” is a quarterly publication reaching over 2,200 Texas members each season. TRAPS is always accepting articles related to the field of parks and recreation, organizational management, health and wellness, and leisure.

The TRAPS Magazine gives consideration to unsolicited manuscripts provided they meet certain criteria set forth by the Publications Committee. Submissions can be up to four double-spaced, typed pages; brevity is encouraged. Articles should be related to the field of parks, recreation and leisure, properly researched, and written in an interesting style for professionals in the field. No articles or photographs submitted will be returned to the author unless special arrangements are made with the editor.

Submitted articles may be edited for grammar and format but will not be altered for content. TRAPS reserves the right to refuse publication of any submitted articles. TRAPS will notify authors of any requests for publication in other media. The publication is solely owned by TRAPS and reproduction of any published materials is prohibited.

If you have an article you would like to submit to our magazine, please fill out the following submission form and attach your piece and any supplementary graphics. When attaching images, please be sure the image resolution is at least 300 dpi (dots per inch) and either a .jpg or .pdf.
