

STEWART C. MEYER HARKER HEIGHTS PUBLIC LIBRARY

TEXAS ARBOR DAY

Story by
Rose Ramon

Art by
Harker Heights High School
Art Students

“Hooray, hooray, it’s Texas Arbor Day,” says Sarah Kay to the soldiers and their families that came out that day.

“For Texas Arbor Day is not in May, it’s today!”

“What is Texas Arbor Day?” you say.

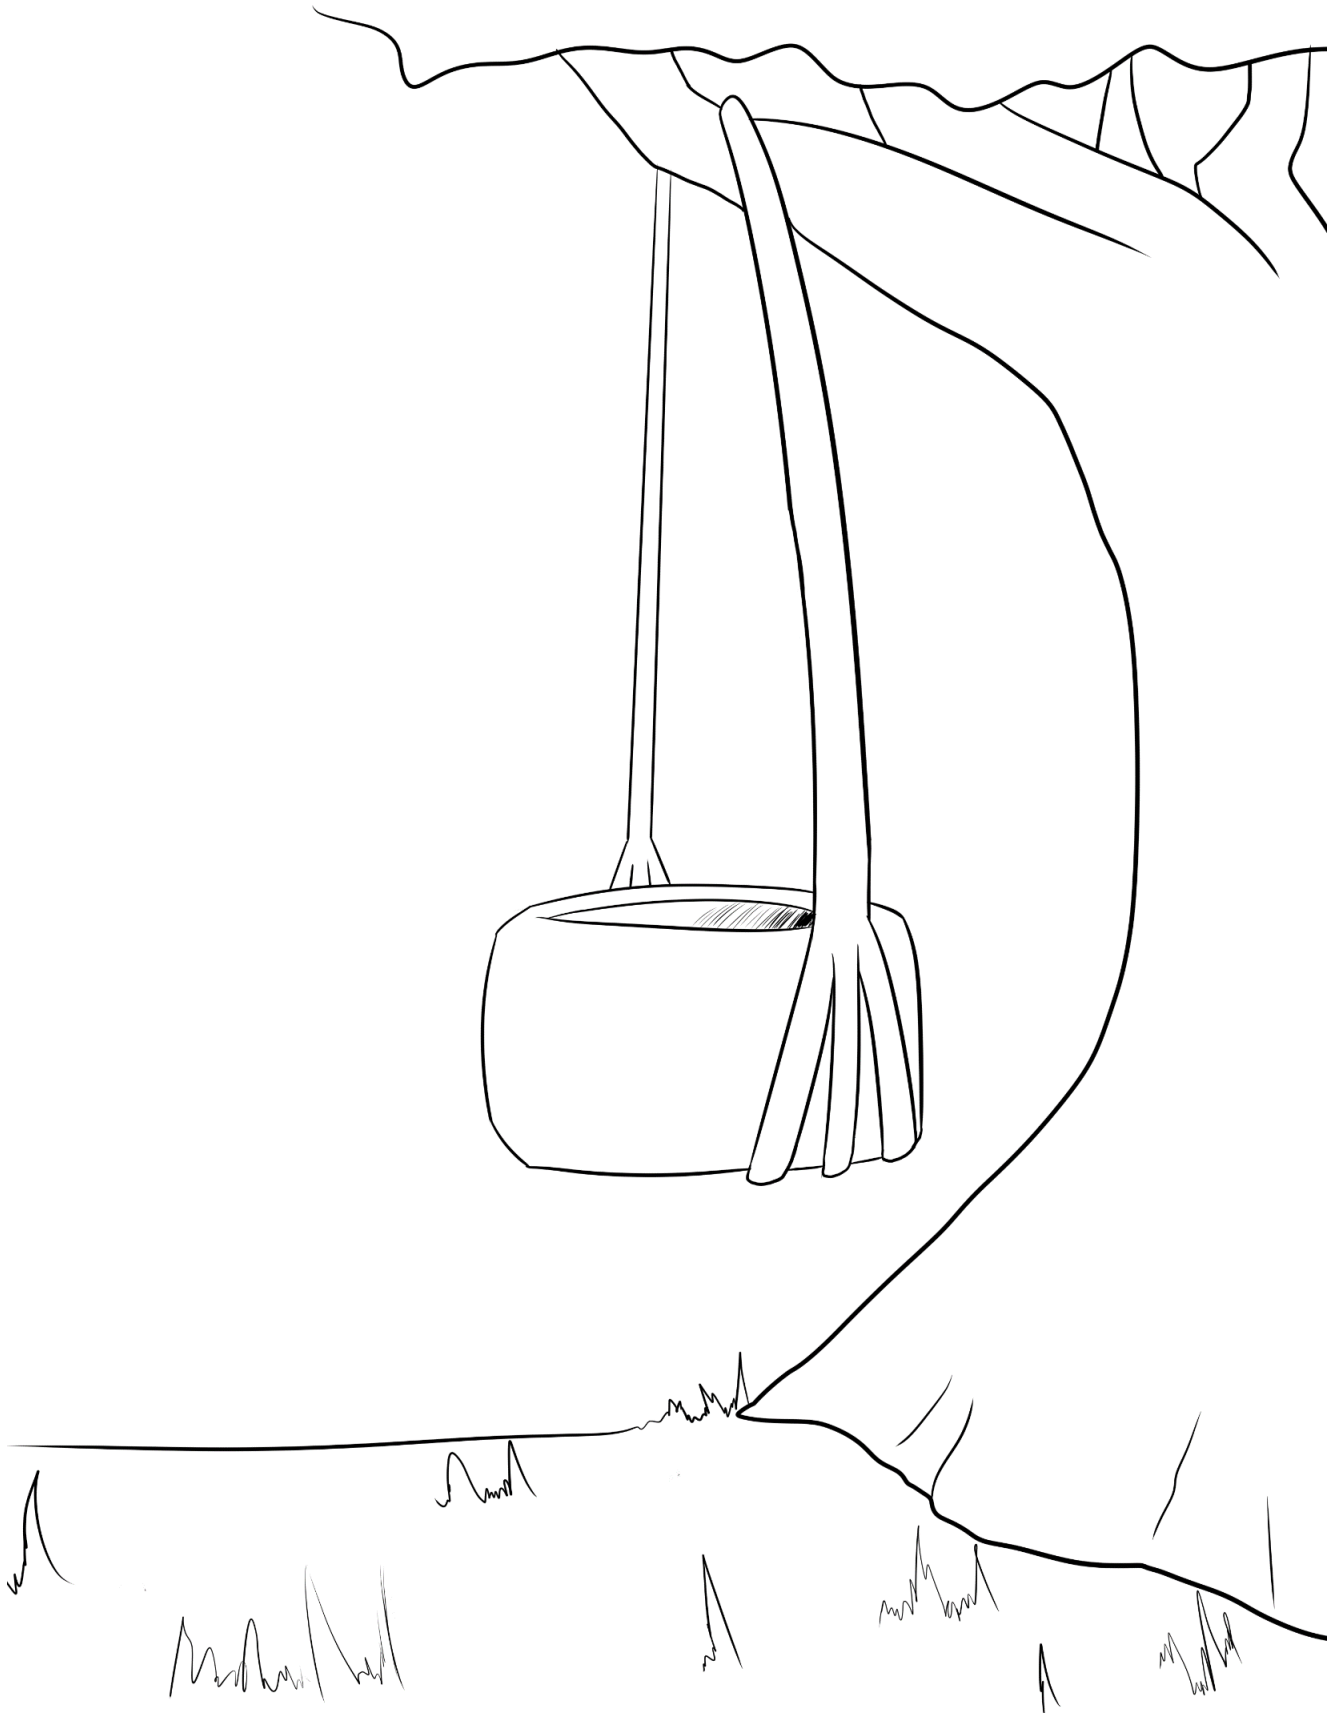

“Well, it’s the very best of holidays.”

“You plant a tree to celebrate the day.”

“That tree provides kids with a place to play.”

“Protection from the sun on a hot summer day.”

“Some trees give food and make beautiful landscapes.”

“The benefits from trees go a long, long way!
Each tree is a family’s bond on display.”

So planting a tree today is the very best way to celebrate Texas
Arbor Day!

“So, happy Texas Arbor Day!” yells Sarah Kay
as she passes out trees, soil, and spades.